Victoria Day Awards

Celebrating 172 years of Victorian Independence and Responsible Government on July 1st 2023

Nominations for the Year 2023

The Victoria Day Awards are given in five categories:

(I) The Victoria Day Award for Community and Public Service. (Victorian of the Year)
Open to all Victorians.

(ii) The Victoria Day Award for Community and Public Service by a Young Victorian.
Open to Victorians under 35.

(iii) The Victoria Day Award for Community and Public Service by a Victorian Organisation or Group.
Open to any Victorian organisation or group of individuals who have performed outstanding work in the areas of Community and Public Service.

(iv) The Victoria Day Award to a Good Corporate Citizen.
Open to any Victorian business or business person

(v) The Victoria Day Award for the Arts.

The awards will be made at the Victoria Day Reception, at the Melbourne Town Hall on 1st July, 2023. The awards are part of the celebration of Victoria's Independence and are to encourage community and public service in Victoria.

In 2022, the awards were presented by Victoria Day Council, Acting Patron-in-Chief, the Hon. Alex Chernov AC, (27th Governor of Victoria) and, were received by Mr Kevin Sheedy, (Victoria Day Award for Community and Public Service and Victorian of the Year), Ms Julia Kay (Victoria Day Award for a Younger Victorian), St John's Ambulance, (Victoria Day Award for Community and Public Service by a Victorian Organisation), Cottons Organic (Good Corporate Citizen) and Footscray Community Arts Centre (Victoria Day Award for the Arts). In previous years recipients have included Victorians of Australian, United Kingdom, Vietnamese and African birth. The only requirement is that the person or organisation be a current resident of Victoria and be undertaking outstanding community and/or public service.

If you believe you know of an individual or an organisation that might be worthy of a Victoria Day Award, please forward your nomination to:
